OUR STORY

Golden Ace Precious Metal Testing LLC was founded in 2015 by a team of experienced chemists and metallurgists. Certified gold testing using the fire assay method: accurate, reliable, and trusted for true gold purity results.

Fire Assay Testing

At Golden Ace, we use the fire assay method to test the purity of gold. This is a traditional and highly accurate method that involves melting the gold in a crucible and then weighing the resulting gold bead. Our experienced chemists ensure that the process is carried out correctly, providing you with a reliable and accurate result.

CORE SERVICES

XRF Testing

X-ray fluorescence (XRF) testing is a non-destructive method used to determine the elemental composition of a sample. It is quick, easy, and provides instant results. At Golden Ace, we use XRF testing to analyze the gold content of your sample, ensuring accurate and reliable results.

Silver Percentage Analysis

Silver percentage analysis is a method used to determine the percentage of silver in a sample. This is particularly useful for testing silver jewelry and bullion. Our chemists use advanced techniques to ensure accurate and reliable results.

Gold Stripping Melting

Gold stripping melting is a process used to remove impurities from gold. This involves melting the gold in a crucible and then pouring it into a mold. The resulting gold is then tested for purity. At Golden Ace, we use this method to ensure that your gold is of the highest quality.

Laser Marking for Gold

Laser marking is a process used to mark gold with a laser. This is a permanent and accurate method of marking. At Golden Ace, we use laser marking to mark your gold with our company logo, ensuring authenticity and reliability.
